

George Bernard Shaw

I don't believe in circumstances. The people who get on in this world are the people who get up and look for the circumstances they want, and if they can't find them, make them. - George Bernard Shaw

Embracing this philosophy can provide an amazing source of motivation for facing each day and planning for the future. There is a remarkable difference in the attitude and outlook one can have towards life in general when there is an acknowledgement that circumstances can be changed, that you can control the direction and flow of your life. It is not necessary to sit back and let life just happen. Taking a risk and taking control of your personal situation can help you reach that place of no regrets.
